9th Dimensional Commission Of Light Light Knoweth No Boundaries

Light knoweth no boundaries and such light is the resonance of the factor of love in this universe and in all universes. That factor of light relates to the solar ray of divine energy as the source of energy and creative structure in this dimensional understanding.

Dimensionally, we are all interacting on multidimensional planes and our wholeness of beingness is supported by the energy of the Sun and its resonance of energy rays. These rays promote the impetus of movement and articulation of matter in such a way as to promote the relative resonance of the hologram of unity. We design the dream, the output and the outcome. We formalize action by concurrence with that action. We cycle in thought on resonant tones of color, sound, and related structure of resonant quality, and all is unified by the bonding of creative time.

Time is output of resonant force and is composite of energy retractable and expandable to the power of 10 to the 24th. Mathematically, time exhibits structure. That structure formalizes the reality it implies. As we blend in resonant tones of existence, we see that light is the basic or procreative force with which all creation is substantiated and formalized.

Light quality has no relationship to the limited structure of language but rather is a format of creative basis with which to unite, in bonding synergy, the relationship with matter and energy; cohesive substance in the universal structure of light. Formalizing matter into resonant quality of atomic structure bends time to relate to itself dimensionally and thus responds to the limitations or expansiveness of the creator within the dimensions of consciousness. With that consciousness relating to soul vibrations, energy frequencies and light quotient, matter is consequentially standardized within the framework of evolution and focus; focus being the directive force within the creative function.

We who are speaking with you now are of the 9th Dimensional Commission of Light, associate with the 9th Dimensional Order of the Communion of the Federation of Planets. We function as an activating modality in unison with the Ashtar Command and the Federation of Planets to which we act as ambassador to peoples and planets of light. Your planet resonates with light though within that light resides an element of darkness for which we must adopt a posture of allowance and support your population to fire the planet with the light quotient that is your lineage and your destiny.

What is the difference between the 9th Dimensional Commission of Light and the 9th Dimensional Order of the Communion of the Federation of Planets?

We of the 9th Dimensional Commission of Light reside in a field of resonant tones surrounded by the energy of geometric zones of influence. The Commission of Light is the structure of our being, the signature of that being, and the tone quality that identifies our essence. The Order of the Communion of the Federation of Planets is the framework of expression through which we activate the interstellar wavelengths of energy to commune with and educate in the mode of what you term “trigger” in your language.

We act as triggers of the encoded light resonance within each of you and activate that resonance with its geometric counterpart galactically in a cosmic mirror. We act as one force although we are made up of the cumulative focus of a multitude of entities that act as the formatting unit of light to many planetary systems. We travel in light form and our bodies are known to you in their resonance quality rather than the structuralized form to which you are accustomed. However, our bodies hold a pattern of development and expression that relates to your own electric signatures, as your bodies are light lowered to engage third dimension in electromagnetic form.

So we are the conjunctive understanding of the communion of beings of diverse systems and our energy signature attunes to planetary systems undergoing evolution at accelerated pace. We assist in the focus and the directive capacity. So, on a practical level, we introduced ourselves to you as a means to relate our light quotient with your own and thereby assist others of your species with light information that will act as triggers to the personal and planetary transformation that is occurring.

Do you have a template or posture that we may follow in order to attune ourselves into receivership of your light quotient?

We of the 9th Dimensional Commission of Light bear the resonant tone of the galactic frequencies of the dimensional plane. You ask that we share our light quotient with you in terms of information resonance; however, that resonance is relative to the cognitive structure of you as the receiving unit and our transmissions are so noted by the relative understanding and unit knowledge so noted as your own light quotient. You see, light quotient is the veritable package of compact units of awareness or light frequencies of resonant tones. Each dimensional understanding, as well as those within the dimensional understandings, resonate their distinct frequencies and it is misunderstood that knowledge can simply be given, one to another. Rather it is pulsed forth on waves of sound or sensory input and thereby translated by the receiver into whatever form and level of frequency such receiver achieves. So what we do and the manner in which we communicate with you is to provide a resonant wave of light, or information and allow your receivers to translate such information and utilize such in the evolvement of soul to accommodate such light quotient individually. Such utilization ultimately generates a collective understanding and the light quotient of the masses is so relegated from one frequency of a total nature to another.

Is your existence within the context of what we term space? If so, can we see the area of your home from our northern hemisphere?

We exist in the dimensional realm rather than a material realm so it is not conceivable for you to speculate our location on a material basis but rather to assume a posture of resonant emotional tone to articulate our presence. Also, the mental plane of existence stimulates a conceptualization of us as beings but the visual locale which your species requires as a frame of reference is unattainable and provides for you the challenge of stretching your concepts of the nature of being and allows for us to integrate our light beings with the reality of your essence through the illusion of your perceptions.

Do we understand correctly that a shift in our focus can bring about a change in the structure of what we know as time? If so, a shift towards what?

Yes, a shift in focus can occur a shift in the consciousness of time. The process for such a shift is the relegation of release from the coercion of adherence to limiting consciousness. Such limited consciousness is the result of many factors, some of which are the manipulative control of other species of your genetic codes and your adherence to what you deem reliability quotient of the manner in which reflection of beliefs promote the structure you label as truth and verification. It is simply a system of thought that generates a false reality so designed as to expound of the "truthfulness" of it to engender adherence to it.

Bending time or shifting your focus of consciousness is articulated by the rotation of the geometric resonance of the creative components of life itself. You, as beings, are composed of geometric shapes in a encoded genetic framework that enables the continuation and the expansion of evolvement of your species. Knowing that your species is a conglomerate of many species in the surrounding solar system and galaxy, as well as inter-universal species, will act as a tremendous input of focus to bend the consciousness of time. Understanding that time is an outgrowth of consciousness and not a finite reality allows for such expansion. This is a subject for which there are reams of information but we will restrict our dissertation in this transmission to the scope of the question.

We wish you a fond good evening. Our body of light and yours are One.
